The Fifth Maryland.

WASHINGTON, May 9, 1871.

FRESHET AT HARPER'S FERRY.

The following dispatch has been received from Harper's Ferry, dated the 8th: The freshet is very high here. All temporary bridges on the Winchester and Potomac branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad are weighed down with cars loaded with coal to keep them from washing away. The water is receding slowly and by night we will be able to see the amount of damage done. Trains are stopped on the Winchester and Potomac branch. A large body of water is passing down through Hall's Island property on the Shenandoah, and fears are entertained it will do serious damages. The rain storm, which has continued here since last midnight, renews apprehensions of a serious freshet. Yesterday morning the temporary supports under the railroad bridge across the Potomac were knocked away by driftwood floating on the strong current. River travel across the bridge is suspended. The work of pumping out the iron steamer Hercules at Georgetown has been suspended until the freshet subsided. The river is very high and a large quantity of driftwood is floating down from the Upper Potomac. The fish wharf is entirely submerged by the flood. The heavy rains of Friday night undermined the track of the Orange, Alexandria and Manasses Railroad, one and a half miles south of Glasgow station but it being apparently all right, the Southern bound freight train on Saturday morning was running over it at the usual speed, when suddenly the embankment gave away, precipitating the engines and two cars down the embankment, and badly injuring C. Mayaugh, the engineer, and Paul A. Goolby, fireman.

THE WEATHER.

Synopsis for the past twenty-four hours: The weather remains unchanged on the Pacific coast. The low pressure which prevailed on Monday evening in the Lower Missouri Valley has moved south and east into Tennessee. The barometer is highest in Wisconsin, and has risen on all the lakes. It has risen only to fall again on the Gulf and South Atlantic. Brisk north winds are reported from Lake Michigan and Illinois. Elsewhere they have been fresh and light. Cloudy weather and light rains have spread from the Ohio Valley eastward to the Atlantic. Clear and partially cloudy weather has prevailed on the lakes.

Probabilities.—It is probable that rain and clouds will on Wednesday advance along the Atlantic coast with clear and cool weather on the lakes and cloudy and clearing weather in the interior.

The Cheney Case.

CHICAGO, May 9.—Bishop Whitehouse and the members of the Ecclesiastical Court, who lately recommended the degradation of the Rev. Cheney from the ministry met by appointment, at Trinity Church yesterday morning, the reverend gentleman named, together with the vestry of Christ Church. The Bishop proposed to suspend the pronouncing of Mr. Cheney's sentence until the next general Convention and forever thereafter, if that Convention shall decide that Mr. Cheney had been following the doctrine of the Episcopal church in omitting to use the word "regenerate" in the office of infant baptism. Mr. Cheney to consent to its use meantime. His proposition was in effect that the General Convention should decide between them. Mr. Cheney took ground that the omission of the word was a matter of conscience with him, and that he could not be induced to use it by any power upon earth. The meeting adjourned until the afternoon, the Bishop hoping that Mr. Cheney might upon reflection be induced to change his mined. Upon reassembling Mr. Cheney adhered to the determination he had expressed in the morning and read a list of bishops and prominent clergymen who had written to him offering their sympathy and announcing their willingness to stand by him, and also to omit the word "regenerate," as he had done. The bishop then left the church, and it is understood that he will pronounce sentence upon Mr. Cheney next week. Rev. John Cotton Smith, rector of the Church of the Ascension, New York city, and one of the editors of the Protestant Churchman is announced to accept Mr. Cheney's pulpit on Sunday next. It is reported that Bishop Whitehouse has telegraphed to Mr. Smith informing him that he will not be permitted to preach if he comes.

The Lieutenant in command of the Spaniards saw the Insurgents were coming and divined their purpose. He waited until they came close to his position when he fired a few volleys into them killing over fifty. The remainder retreated. The Insurgents were defeated in their attempt to take the post and abandoned the plan against Valmaseda who came later in a little Steamer. Valmaseda promoted the Lieutenant to a Captaincy for his conduct.

Leasing Jersey Roads to the Pennsylvania Central—Raid on a Gambling House—Attempt to Throw a Train Off the Track—Slave Labor Charges—Three Children Burned to Death—Too Sensitive—Steamships Arrived—Meeting of Iron Men—Labor Reform Society—Bank Robberies—Base Ball—Guilty of Murder—The Delaware Canal—Sudden Deaths—The Presbytery.

NEW YORK, May 9, 1871.

THE LEASING OF JERSEY ROADS BY THE PENNSYLVANIA CENTRAL.

The lease of the united railroads in New Jersey to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which has for months been the object uppermost in the minds of railroad men, capitalists and politicians of New Jersey, was submitted to the united Board of Directors in Trenton yesterday. The committee, to whom the matter has been confided, had a meeting last Saturday in Philadelphia in conjunction with a similar committee from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and after eleven hours debate all the provisions of the lease were finally agreed on. Their work was approved by the Directors of the New Jersey companies yesterday, only a few verbal alterations being made and the meeting adjourned to give the Commission time to make the required alterations. The Directors will then have another meeting, after which the lease will be submitted directly to the stockholders. Before the meeting adjourned yesterday an offer was received from another powerful company, which it is not necessary to name, submitting proposals equally favorable to those made by the Pennsylvania, and offering in addition a bonus of nearly one million dollars. This offer will of course affect materially the negotiations now going on, but although the security offered is of a first class description, the matter will not rest with the stockholders. If the lease to the Pennsylvania Company is rejected by them, the second offer may receive consideration, since the amount of property to be transferred is to the value of forty million dollars, embracing railroads and canals that cover seventeen out of the twenty-one counties of the State. No event will be watched with greater interest to New Jersey and New York.

DESCENT ON A GAMBLING HOUSE.

A posse of police of the Fifteenth Precinct this morning made a descent on a gambling house, 818 Broadway, known as the Combination game, owned by John Morrissey, John McCormack, Wm. Gage, John Fortune, Geo. P. Sweeney, Wm. Waldron, Ira J. Amore, alias January, and three others. The inmates, twenty-two in number, were found in various out-of-the-way places, among them three of the proprietors—Gage, Sweeney and Waldron. All were locked up. A warrant was issued by Justice Dowling, on complaint of Arnold Stevers, of the Prescott House, who swears that on March 6th he lost two hundred and fifty dollars at faro at the place.

A DIABOLICAL ATTEMPT.

A dispatch says that an attempt was made on Sunday night, April 30th, to throw express train No. 12, on the Erie Railway, off the track near Deposit. The train was descending the summit grade and approaching the station, when at Sward's crossing it ran into some obstructions, but its weight and speed, however, overcame the resistance and the danger was escaped. The trackman on duty, after the train had passed found broken ties on the track and fire on one side of the track, which had been kindled during his absence. Two green hemlock ties had been placed on end at the cattle guard across the track, and above these heavy oak ties had been placed in such a position that the front truck of the locomotive would partially mount it, raising it from the track. Fortunately the weight of the engine was so great that the hemlock ties broke short off, and the oaken ties thus relieved shifted around, letting the wheels drop again. The watchman at once began removing the obstructions, when he was assailed by a shower of stones from the woods one side of the road. He was compelled to abandon his work, and procure assistance. Train No. 12 on this night was more than usually heavy, and contained the directors car upon which were Gould and Fisk and several division superintendents who were on their way to the city to assist in arranging a new time table. If the effort had been a success it would have been attended with great loss of life. The grade here is fifty feet to the mile, and the speed of trains is from forty to fifty miles an hour. The matter has not been made public, as it was hoped that a clue to the perpetrators could be obtained. An armed patrolman has watched the track from Deposit to the Susquehanna since the affair, to guard against a repetition of the attempt.

LABOR REFORM.

The Labor Reform League is holding its annual meeting to-day in Steinway Hall. The audience at the morning session consisted of about four hundred persons, chiefly ladies. Rev. J. D. Sargent, of Boston, prezided. A. M. Powell read a letter from Mr. Sumner, regretting that he could not attend the meeting, and recommending Americans to give up the war-dance around San Domingo. The annual report dealt with South, Indian and Chinese questions, and recorded a movement inaugurated by Julia Ward Howe for promoting peace by summoning a congress of women to London. Wendell Phillips spoke nearly an hour and chiefly dealt with the Southern difficulty and the labor question. He approved Mr. Sumner's San Domingo policy, and regretted the insult offered him. There still, he said, was a state of war with the South. Let General Grant lay his hands on the leaders in the South, the men who count their acres by the thousands and are the instigators of assassinations, and you will never bear of Ku-Klux again. (Applause) Let the Ku-Klux of Carolina know that the President is terribly in earnest, and there will be an end to outrages.

In reply to a voice asking "what about carpet-baggers." He said, the South is ignorant of the besotted poor and is chilled by departing barbarism, yet they repel the Northerner who goes down with the only thing they want, brains and money. But the sly cunning of the Northerners remains to squeeze political power out of those pitiful babies. [Laughter.] If the North have to take arms again they will stop at no constitutional destination or State laws, but put the South under the heel of military despotism. On questions of labor, he advised the Republicans to adopt Labor Reform into their platform. He spoke of corruptions in judges and city officials, and the lessons of the cowardly Snylocks who dig their hands into the private fortunes of a city, are teaching the men with bludgeons, and said the next time the Bowery boys have a riot they may take into their heads not to hang negroes to lamp-posts, but to indulge in millionaires.

Among the other speakers were Mr. W. J. Linton, of England, Mrs. Cora Tappan, Julia Ward Howe and Lucretia Mott. The meeting was considered a success.

GREELEY.

Mr. Horace Greeley and party, including General Merritt, late national officer of New York, and Mr. Chas. Storrs, will leave on Thursday morning for Texas, via Cincinnati, Louisville and New Orleans, spending Friday afternoon in the first named city. Mr. Greeley has been officially tendered the hospitalities of the city of Houston, and will deliver there, at the annual fair of the Blood Stock Association, held on the 22d inst., an elaborate address on agriculture as an art. Leading members of the Texas Legislature and influential capitalists have joined in urging Mr. Greeley to make this visit in order that he may judge from personal observation the resources of the measures of internal improvement now in progress. Mr. Greeley will probably remain in Texas a fortnight.

SLAVE LABOR CHARGES.

The Tribune's Washington special says: Judge Tabor, Fourth Auditor of the Treasury Department, received a letter from a man in Florida, who says he has a claim against the United States for labor performed in the Florida navy yard, in the winter of 1861, by sixteen of his slaves, whose names he gives. He will be informed that the day has passed when any master can collect from the United States any money for labor done by his slaves, but that if the men themselves can prove that they performed the labor, their claim for pay will be good.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Three children were burned to death at Auburn yesterday afternoon. They were at play in an outhouse where there was a barrel of fire-works, which exploded. It is presumed that they were playing with matches, and set fire to the barrel. Two children were probably instantly killed. The third lingered some hours. The youngest child, aged four years, was a son of Mr. Mitchell, a gilder. The others were children of Mr. McCarty, of Capitoli, where the accident occurred.

A lady named Higgins, after visiting the scene of the disaster, was so shocked by the horrible sight that she died at ten o'clock the same evening.

NASHVILLE.

The Exposition.

NASHVILLE, May 9.—The attendance at the Tennessee Exposition has been very large, whilst the articles on exhibition representing every branch of Tennessee manufactures, mechanics, minerals, products of toil and arts, exceed in variety and importance any former collection in the State. Visitors are here from all quarters of the Union and are much pleased.

SCRANTON.

Another Riot.

SEVERAL PERSONS INJURED.

SCRANTON, May 9.—A riot occurred at Hyde Park to-day. The laborers and miners who desired to resume work were holding a meeting near Hampton mines where they were assaulted with stones by the wives of the miners who resist resumption. A crowd of these miners were a little way off urging on the women believing that the laborers would not return an assault on the females. The laborers then moved further off towards a strip of woods, but were followed by the miners, who in the meantime had been greatly reinforced. Men and women then unitedly assaulted the laborers, and stones were freely used on both sides. A woman named Smith was seriously wounded in the head by a stone, and as the affray increased in violence pistols were drawn and fired. A man named William Love, one of the assaulting party, was severely wounded in the thigh. Another named McDonald was shot in the head, and about ten or twelve others were most brutally beaten, some of whom will probably die. The military was ordered to the scene of the disturbances, but arrived too late to do any good.

This riot is generally admitted to have been only one of the results of the Workingmen's Benevolent Association demonstration on Monday, when the miners were inflamed by appeals to their passions by Kealy, the President of the General Council.

Great excitement has prevailed here to-day. During the day a mob of several hundred rioters visited the works of Morris & Weeks and drove out the men at work there.

What the end will be no one can tell. A large body of troops will arrive to-morrow, but as most of them will be from the coal regions not much confidence is felt in them.

Arrested for Murder.

CLAIMING LAND.

Dr. R. H. Porter, of this city, has brought a suit in the United States District Court at Topeka, Kansas, for the recovery of the ground upon which the town of Council Grove, Kansas, stands. He claims it under a law of Congress which permits mail carriers to establish mail stations in the territories to which a section of land can be attached. Council Grove was one of those stations. The property is now valued at half a million dollars.

A MURDERER ARRESTED.

The man who so atrociously murdered Mrs. Christine Peters, near Centreville, April 21, was captured to-day twenty miles below Potosi, Washington county, Missouri, and brought to this city and taken to Belleville, Illinois, this afternoon by Sheriff Hughes of St. Clair county. A considerable crowd gathered at the depot in East St. Louis when he was being put on the train, and fears were expressed that he would be lynched. He admits having attempted to violate Mrs. Peters but denies that he killed her. A finger ring belonging to Mrs. Peters, and the clothes of her husband which were stolen at the time of the murder were found on him. He gave his name as White which is evidently an assumed one.

MEMPHIS.

General Sherman's Speech.

MEMPHIS, May 9.—To-morrow's Avalanche will say editorially that the speech of General Sherman reported by Conway to the New York Tribune, and reported in last night's dispatches as having been made at the Union League at New Orleans, does not refer to one delivered at the American Union Club on the 20th ult., and reported yesterday by its New Orleans correspondent, and which has created so much excitement in political circles, but to another speech of his before the Union League Club, in which he spoke of the intimate social relations existing between him, Bragg and Beauregard, which was reported in the New Orleans papers and severely commented on by some, while one reported for the Avalanche was never published or commented on in the New Orleans papers, and could not therefore have been the one referred to in the speech reported by Conway. The Avalanche further says its report was furnished by an officer of the United States army who was present when it was delivered.

The railroad depot has been delivered over to the Commander of the National troops for safe keeping. Peace Commissioners have started to confer with the rebels and also the proper officers to reclaim the steamer Montijo and the prisoners on board. Herrara, the rebel Commander, has notified the United States Consul not to interfere by sending a United States steamer to Resaca for the recapture of the Montijo, because he says United States officers will not be permitted to come on board that vessel, and he will fight them to the bitter end.

THE PRODUCTION.

The daily average production appears to be 68 barrels in excess of that of March. This result is probably due to the excessive amount of benzine used, while the quality of good merchantable oil pumped from the wells was less per day than in March.

The largest decrease for the month occurred in the Hickory district, while its near neighbor, the Tidioute district, took a step in the opposite direction. The decrease in the Rouseville district was also considerable.

The production of Church Run was considerably increased, as was that of Pithole, the J. S. McCray farm, and the lower river districts, particularly at Foster, Scrubgrass, Parker and Armstrong Run.

THE STOCK.

The increase of stock during April is about 13,000 barrels less than during March. Producers and others holding oil are still firm in their belief that better prices will be realised, and consequently continue to make but limited sales. As will be seen by the following statements, the .... creased nearly .... at the wells .... The stock held .... about 24,000 barrels .... increased nearly .... barrels.

The following stocks are held by Pittsburghers at Oil City:

Cochran & Co	3,000
Mawhinney	5,500
Haldeman	8,000
Rochester Oil Co	3,100
Munhall	22,000
Fisher Bros	2,080
Fleming & Co	350
Modell	350
Lockhart, Frew & Co	1,000
Parker, Thompson & Co	12,500
Clark, Payne & Co	500
Venango City:
Fisher Bros	15,000
Lamberton & Co	4,883
Mawhinney & Bates	1,500

NEW DEVELOPMENTS.

The "excitement" of the month has been at Church Run, on the new portion of which territory several fine wells have been struck since the 13th of the month, that have served to largely increase the production of that vicinity. Nearly all adjacent territory has been leased to operators, and a large number of wells are drilling, or are to be drilled at once.

On the Milton Farm and adjacent territory, in the Cranberry District, much excitement continues. Many leases have been taken at high prices, and numerous wells are in progress. The extent of the belt is not yet determined.

At Pithole operations are still active, but no large wells have been completed since our last report. The test wells in progress embrace a large extent of territory; leases command high prices, and the prospect is good for large figures from there the present season.

In the Parker oil field the Dutchess farm is the scene of the greatest activity, and its production is being rapidly increased. Four wells are down and producing about 170 barrels daily, with others very nearly completed. The Forker lease on the Robinson farm, adjoining the Dutchess, has two wells, producing 125 barrels daily, and others in progress. The Black and Thomas farms, in the same neighborhood, are being tested, and good news from there is confidently expected. Thus is the Parker district being extended, and its production kept up.

On Armstrong Run territory is being rapidly developed. Several "strikes" have been made during the month, and particularly since the 20th inst., so that a considerable increase of production may be looked for in that direction during the coming summer.

From the above it will be seen that in the oil regions, if no where else, the trade in petroleum is not only vast and growing, but is fairly active.

DECORATION DAY.

An Appeal from Headquarters G. A. R.

HEADQUARTERS DEPT. OF PENNSYLVANIA, GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, 737 Sansom street, Philadelphia, May 3, 1871.

COMRADES: The 30th of May has been set apart by the National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic as the day in each year when the army of the living is to meet in their silent camping grounds the army of the dead. I know that in every spot in this department where a Union soldier sleeps, a loyal heart will be found to do him honor, and with willing hands strew on the patriot's grave the first spring flowers of the land he died to save and regenerate.

The Grand Army of the Republic has taken on itself the duty of conducting, wherever there is a Post, the memorial services on Decoration Day. It is requested that every comrade attend on the 30th inst., and give one day to the comrades gone before. The militia and other organizations should be invited to participate, as well as the citizens, to whom as soldiers we owe so much. Ask that the schools in your vicinity be closed for the day, that the children may join with you and learn lessons of patriotism near the soldiers' graves.

It is necessary to fully record the names of all soldiers, sailors and marines buried in the cemeteries you decorate, with full particulars of service and death, and transmit the same to the Assistant Adjutant General at Pottsville. You will find accompanying a form for Decoration Services, which, whenever practicable, you will strictly follow.

Yours, in F. C. & L.,
A. R. CALHOUN,
Commanding Department.

A Tough Story.

An Ohio traveler is telling the following story at Dayton. Her name is Prairie Ward. She says she has walked all the way from San Francisco to Dayton; that she is forty-nine years of age; that her father's name was Armstrong; and that he was a Wyandot half-breed. Her mother, she claims, was a daughter of Russell Bigelow, Chaplain of the Ohio Penitentiary. In 1825, when living near Columbus, Ky., she was stolen by Comanche Indians, and carried to the present Territory of Nebraska, where, at the age of thirteen, she was married to David Ward, a half-breed, by whom she became the mother of eleven children. Her husband afterward joined the rebel army, and she stayed with the tribe. They murdered the children, ate their flesh, and danced in their blood. She afterward escaped, taking the long walk above mentioned, and is in Ohio to find out her relations, having an aunt living in Bellefontaine.

The same to be delivered, at the expense of the contractor, on board of a sea-going vessel or vessels, at any Atlantic or Gulf port nearest to the manufacturer's workshops, and accessible to such vessels.

The brick-work, the glass for the lantern, the lens; the lamps, and furniture, belonging thereto, will be provided by the Light House Board, and their cost is not to be included in the amount of the bid.

The bid should state the sum for which the ENTIRE WORK, as shown on the drawing, will be completed, fully erected at the workshops, and then taken down after acceptance, and delivered as aforesaid; and should also state the day and date on which it shall be completed and delivered, under forfeit, as specified in the "Form of Bid."

The work will be carried on under the personal supervision of an agent of the Board, and all facilities must be afforded him for inspecting the material and workmanship. Such parts of either as are not in accordance with the drawings and specifications must, in case of rejection, be made good at the expense of the contractor.

The Board reserves the right to reject any proposal for any reasons it may deem sufficient.

Each bid must be accompanied by a bond, signed by the bidder and two competent sureties (certified to be such by some officer known to the Treasury Department), in the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), and that, in the event of the acceptance of such bid, the necessary contract will be entered into within ten (10) days after notice is given by the Board that the bid has been accepted.

Bond and security in the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), signed by two competent bondsmen, for the faithful performance of the contract will also be required.

A copy of the plans and specifications must be inclosed with the bid, as evidence as to the object of the proposal.

All proposals must be signed, sealed, and indorsed: "Proposals for a light-house at Bolivar Point, Texas," and then inclosed in another envelope and directed, prepaid, to Rear-Admiral W. B. Shubrick, Chairman of the Light House Board, Treasury Department Washington, D. C.

Any bidder may be present and witness the opening of the bids at the time and place hereinbefore specified.

Bidders will name the ports at which they will deliver on board ship.

Payments for the work will be made quarterly, upon estimates certified to by the agent of the Board; but twenty (20) per centum of the amount of each estimate will be withheld until the satisfactory completion of the contract.

LOUISVILLE
CEMENT.
The Best--The Cheapest.

The Cement has acquired the reputation as the first in the country in hydraulic strength and uniform reliability.

It is now in general use from the lakes to the Gulf, most of the public works in the West and South being constructed with it.

The mills at Louisville having been enlarged and improved, can supply any demand, and though the Cement has always, for 30 years brought higher prices than competing brands, it is from this time the determination of the manufacturers, in order to largely increase the sale and extend the use of their Cement, to furnish it in the principal markets at prices which make it the most available and economical for all classes of work.

The large capacity of this Cement for taking sand renders it much the cheapest that can be used for buildings of any kind.

At the reduced prices in Pittsburgh its cost is not much above common lime, which makes it unquestionably to the interest of owners and builders that the foundation of every good house should be laid in this Cement.

A large stock of fresh Cement has just been received by barges from Louisville, and is offered at greatly reduced prices by the following dealers:

GOLD closed in New York on yesterday at 111.

THE INFAMOUS seven dollars a day bill, for extra time, we are glad to learn will not pass the Senate.

FROM PRIVATE advices received from Harrisburg last evening, we are assured there will be no opposition to Mr. Humphreys taking a place on the State ticket.

THE Post is frightened because Mr. Joseph Dilworth will be a candidate before the Republican Convention for County Commissioner. Keep cool, gentlemen; the Republicans of Allegheny county intend electing one of their own kind this fall, as they did last.

IT is an amusing fact and one which tends to illustrate the truth that the Democratic party everywhere has little or no honor or honesty, individually, collectively or otherwise, that the bill for the banquet given in honor of Andy Johnson some years ago in Harrisburg, remains to this day unpaid.

THE REPUBLICANS throughout the country watch with anxious interest the movement so auspiciously set forward in Ohio to bring out Ben Wade, the staunch and sterling old patriot and statesman for the gubernatorial nomination. With such a tried, true and trusty leader that State would be secured to Republicanism by such an overwhelming old fashioned majority as would encourage the nation and prove the certain fore-runner of another grand Presidential victory for Grant in 1872. Ohio owes it to her sister states to start the Republican ball a rolling by placing old Ben in the field to win a brilliant and overwhelming triumph in the contest.

THE SENATE of the United States will meet to-day in extra session to consider the report of the Joint High Commission. There is a strong hope indulged in by all who desire to see the international difficulties between this country and Great Britain settled, that the conclusions arrived at by the Commission will be satisfactory to the Senate and the country, and that the report will prove to be, in every way, just what the nature of the subjects discussed in it demands. We have no doubt but that it will receive that calm and deliberate attention which the circumstances require. Its publicity and the action of the Senate upon it will be looked for anxiously by the whole country.

WE HAVE frequently given to our readers extracts from different political journals over the position that is truthfully taken by Democracy on the subject of the reconstruction measures. We do not mean that hypocritical cant, that talks whiningly about accepting the situation and allowing the amendments to stand, but we refer to the actual intention of Democracy with reference to those measures, provided that party should gain the National power at the coming Presidential election. There are a few journals at the North, belonging to Democracy that have been assiduously trying to cheat and deceive the people, by professing an entire willingness to "accept the situation." We say they are trying to deceive the people, because these journals are well aware, that the voice of the Democracy is against the reconstruction measures, and the interest of the Democratic party is to blot them from the record the first time it gets into power. For this reason we present continually to our readers, extracts from Southern Democractic journals on the subject, showing just what is the true state of the case. We quote to-day from the Montgomery (Ala.) Mail. That journal says:

If, for instance, that policy shall be so shaped as to attack the odious amendments on the ground of their centralizing tendency with regard to Government powers, we are content to fight the battle on that issue, and bide the time which must at length set all things even. But although we leave our ultimate object in the background for a season, it shall nevertheless be kept duly alive; so that at the proper moment it may be brought prominently forward to assume that leading position in the matters for final adjustment before the bar of right and justice that its immeasurable importance demands.

So far then as this journal is concerned it only leaves the attack on the "odious amendments" in the background, and these attacks shall nevertheless be kept alive. Is there any plainer expression of an intent needed. What use is it for the New York World and a few little echoes that harp on the same chord trying to induce the people to believe that Democracy accepts these amendments against the volume of evidence daily placed before the public, proving the contrary.

SCHŒPPE AGAIN.

There will be a new bill introduced shortly in the Legislature to afford the Supreme Court authority to review the law and the evidence in the case of the unfortunate Dr. Paul Schœppe. It will be remembered that the last bill of relief applying to his case was reported negatively from the Judiciary Committee to the House, the ground assigned therefor being based on the idea that it was unconstitutional. Now, we hope that the members will calm their ever-sensitive consciences in disposing of the bill about to be introduced by simple justice and mercy, as it is a movement made in the behalf of an unfortunate man whose wretched life hangs upon a thread. The law enacted especially to bear upon his case by the last Legislature, but which was set aside by the Supreme Court as being irregular and of no avail to the prisoner whose doom had been sealed prior to its enactment, should by all means be made applicable now, and we think the Legislature will make no mistake in taking such view of the case. We are no sentimental sympathizers with Schœppe, nor do we believe him innocent; but justice is justice, and the man has the same right to save his life and liberty as any other citizen of the Commonwealth who may be similarly situated in circumstances, and the laws should afford him equal opportunity to do so. There can no evil consequences follow upon a review of the law and evidence in his case before a higher tribunal than that before which he was tried and condemned. If he can substantiate his innocence well and good, for none can desire the punishment of a fellow being for a crime which he never committed. If, on the other hand, he be again proven guilty and all the proceedings in his case be decided regular, then none can bewail his fate or feel that human wrath has consigned an innocent man to the grave in the mockery of stern justice. By all means give Schœppe, in sympathy for whom so many thousands of good and true people are enlisted, a fair show to proclaim that he is guiltless of the most atrocious crime of murder.

PUBLIC MEN.

A series of quite interesting articles on public men, from the pen of Colonel J. W. Forney, is now appearing in the Philadelphia Press. During the war for the Union the rooms of Mr. Forney on Capitol Hill were frequently filled with gentlemen of every shade of political opinion. They "met," says the Collector of the Port of Philadelphia, "like a band of brothers—the lawyer, the clergyman, the editor, the reporter, the poet, the painter, the inventor, the politician, the stranger, the old citizen, the Southerner and the Northerner, the soldier and the statesman, the clerk and Cabinet Minister, and last, not least, President Lincoln himself."

Notwithstanding the diversity of opinion among the company, the best state of feeling universally prevailed. "At one table Thaddeus Stevens would be found playing a game of whist with the Democratic Representative from Indiana, the venerable John Law; at another, William Pitt Fessenden and Senator Nesmith, of Oregon. Speaker, now Vice President, Colfax, would be seen in the corner with his inevitable cigar, talking with Hon. Samuel J. Randall, the Democratic Representative from the First Pennsylvania district. In another recess George D. Prentice, of the Louisville Journal, would be discussing politics with Joseph Medill, of the Chicago Tribune. The great portrait painter, Elliott, would be engaged in art ethics with Brady, the photographer; and so on through all the grades of sentiment and society."

There was one meeting which above all others, says the writer of the sketches, is to be held in remembrance, as its discussions show the advanced views which the venerable Senator from Pennsylvania, Hon. Simon Cameron, at that time Secretary of War, held in regard to the arming of negroes. The Press says:

"One evening in particular, I shall never forget when William H. Russell, the famous correspondent of the London Times was present. While we were singing the "Star-spangled Banner" (this was before we got rid of the peculiar institution) he joined in the chorus in a loud voice, singing "America, the land of the free and the home of the slave." There were argumentations and discussions, but no quarreling. Another night, when nearly all the Cabinet were present, General Cameron, Secretary of War, startled the proprieties by taking bold ground in favor of arming the negroes. He was immediately answered by Hon. Caleb N. Smith, Secretary of the Interior, and the controversy became exceedingly animated, enlisting all the company, silencing the music, and creating a deal of consternation. Robert J. Walker, George D. Prentice and several more participated in the discussion, while Edwin M. Stanton, then a quiet practitioner of the law, stood by, a silent figure in the scene."

PERPETUAL MOTION.

Doubtless there has been an unbroken line of seekers after the perpetual motion, ever since the first machine was started for lightening the labors of man. There has constantly run abreast with the contrivance of useful machines the thought of mechanical motion, in duration perpetual, but not necessarily with power to spare. That stubborn thing called Friction has ever been like a lion in the path of Genius, demanding such great proportion of the fruits of his labor as to make very many content with the creation of a machine which would barely suffice to run itself, without promising aid for the movement of other engines. Still, the sanguine, whose number is not small, have from age to age convinced themselves that a motion of that sort could be invented, which would supply ample spare power.

In a former paper, while we admitted the improbability of any arrangement whereby the ordinary mechanical powers could be made to move perpetually, through inherent force, we at the same time drew attention to the fact that there are other powers, imponderable and invisible, which offer to the philosophical mechanist a wide field for hopeful experiment; and we trust and believe that the day will come when the great secret will be wrenched from the invisible agencies, and compelled to do yeoman's service for ever afterwards. But our object just now is to introduce to the reader one of our former fellow-citizens, Mr. Brettingham, who thought and labored before the occult powers of nature had yet been much studied. His perpetual motion was finished fifty-five years ago, and in the Pittsburgh Mercury of November, 1815, he makes his bow to the public and introduces his machine as follows:

PERPETUAL MOTION.

The subscriber informs the public that he has now finished, and will in a very short time exhibit to their view, a machine which possesseth its own integrities and produceth its own power, from the first instant, by the conjunction of its own materials, gaineth and retaineth both under one head, and remaineth as it was, distinctly clear from any point of exhaustations; having power sufficient to keep all its parts in regular motion, and cannot by any means run itself out of motion, until it is worked out or broken, if it has its own liberty. It is a plain and simple piece of workmanship; and a wheel of ten feet over, can produce power sufficient to drive one pair of five feet millstones. This engine has neither hooks nor chains, nor pendulums, nor balance wheels attached to it; nor balls running to and fro; nor weights running on carriages; nor arms falling out and in; but all radically different from any other piece of work that has yet been seen or heard of.

JOSEPH BRETTINGHAM, Steam Mill, Pittsburgh.

November 18th, 1815.

That is handsomely said, and worthy the mighty achievement. Such a machine deserveth to be brought forward with dignity. What it gaineth it retaineth, and still remaineth: being liable to no exhaustations. As it possesseth its own integrities also, and produceth its own power, by the conjunction of its own materials, and cannot by any means run itself out of motion,—we may be reasonably confident that it is still running along merrily, and laughing at the cumbrous contrivance of furnace, stone-coal, and boiler, which the perversity of our people yet demands for the accomplishment of the same result.

A F. M.

STEAM BOAT.

LOUISVILLE, December 25, 1815.

To remove all doubt from the minds of the credulous and to stamp with the seal of sober, complete reality, the mighty enterprise of counteracting the velocity of the great waters of the west by the power of steam, Captain De Hart, of the Etna, arrived at the foot of the falls, from New Orleans on the 18th inst., after a voyage of unprecedented difficulty from the unusually low stage of the Mississippi and the vexatious violations of all the contracts for fuel on the route. The Etna possesses a power equivalent to sixty horses, draws six feet when fully loaded and measures 420 tons. She left New Orleans at half past one o'clock P. M. on the 17th of October, and reached Natchez, a distance of 300 miles, in 69½ hours, where she was disappointed in obtaining wood, and detained three days. At St. Francis she was detained four days in cutting wood. One thousand bushels of coals deposited for her use at Chickasaw Bluffs were unfortunately lost by the bank falling in; and she was again detained 4 days in cutting wood. At New Madrid she received only a part of the wood contracted for and one thousand and eighty bushels of coal, deposited for her at the mouth of Cumberland river, were entirely squandered away and the boat was in consequence detained there five days in procuring wood. She arrived at Henderson on the 7th inst. and remained there until the 15th inst., endeavoring to repair the water wheel shaft. Notwithstanding these most untoward circumstances, she has succeeded in accomplishing her voyage and arrived at Shippenport on the 19th. We are happy to learn that such judicious arrangements are made for fuel as will in future entirely remove these obstacles that have so much impeded her present voyage. She has employed but 365 or 368 hours in actual sailing. This at the fairest calculation of hours to the day (as the night cannot be employed in sailing on the Mississippi,) gives a month and a few hours from New Orleans to this place. Captain De Hart has the merit of trying this species of navigation to the very core, he passed many places in the Mississippi where there were but six feet of water, when his boat drew five feet nine inches, and touched in many places in the Ohio. Frequently he buoyed the channel out and constantly kept the leads going to sound his way. From these meritorious exertions, worthy of an accomplished seaman, Captain De Hart has been able to draw a chart of the Mississippi of the minutest particularity, a work itself of incalculable value in navigating the western waters, and of the utmost advantage when a few inches difference in the channel may be the salvation of a momentous voyage. On the whole, the invention of steam boats is, like our glorious Republic, in the full tide of successful experiment.

WASHINGTON, PA.

A Visit Thither—Anniversary of the Y. M. C. Association—The Report—President Hay's Address—Railroads—Chartiers Valley—Grain, Fruit, &c.

PITTSBURGH, EAST END, May 8, 1871.

I had the pleasure on last Thursday evening, of attending the first Anniversary of the Y. M. C. Association of Washington, Pa. It was held in the Town Hall. The exercises were interesting. They were opened with a voluntary by the Musical Association of the town. Then followed a prayer by Rev. W. A. Davidson; after this the annual report was read by Freeman Brady, Esq., the President of the Association. The report was a well prepared paper, and showed that a noble work had been done by the Association during the first year of its existence. Religious services had been held weekly in the county jail, in the County Home for the Poor, and in the Rooms of the Association; also, two weekly cottage prayer meetings. The Rooms of the Association had been kept open every evening, save Sabbath, for the accommodation of young men, where they were supplied with the best of newspaper and magazine reading. In addition to all this, the Association had provided for the town a course of first-class lectures, and in so doing had been nobly and generously sustained by the people.

After the reading of the report, Rev. Mr. Hays, President of Washington and Jefferson College, was introduced, and made one of his characteristic addresses. It had a good substratum of thought, and then abounded with illustrations and anecdotes, all put in his odd and impressive manner. The audience was well entertained, and the interests of the Association earnestly and ably advocated.

WASHINGTON.

It improves a number of new buildings going up. Railroads all the talk. Two trains running daily on the Hempfield to and from Wheeling. A strong probability that the road will be, at an early day, completed through to the Connellsville road, making the principal route from Wheeling to Baltimore. The track of the Chartiers road is laid within about two miles of Washington. It will be completed in a couple of weeks. Then the Washingtonians purpose a grand celebration. It will be good to be there. Much rejoicing will be had that Pittsburgh at last can be reached by rail.

The Chartiers road is being built splendidly. The cars run over it so smoothly that it is a luxury to ride on them. And through what a valley the road runs. Its soil is rich, and underneath it lies a bed of excellent coal. All along that valley stretching from Pittsburgh to Washington will be found, in a very few years, a dense population. Washington itself will be a very inviting place to live. Its beauty of location, its healthfulness, its institutions of learning, and its social attractions, are such as to make it a very desirable place to have one's home.

GRAIN AND FRUIT.

I paid some attention to both. Never saw the wheat crop better at this time of the year. It promises a very abundant harvest. The fruit is not all killed. In some locations it seems to be safe. It is on the trees yet, and appears to be healthy. The whole country is lovely. The fields are carpeted with green, the trees are putting on their beautiful garments, the flowers are smiling and blushing on hill top and in valley, and the birds are warbling their bridal songs and building their nests.

Blessed spring! Lovely country! God made them both. He is good. O that men would praise him!

AMICUS.

THE HURRICANE.

Its Devastation at Baton Rouge.

The Baton Rouge Advocate, of the 3d instant, says of the hurricane or tornado there:

The terrible gale which passed through our city yesterday was one of those events which are never forgotten. Short in its duration, it will live all the longer in the memories of those who suffered from its withering effects. The oldest living men here assert that, for fierceness and wrath, they have never seen its equal. More damage may oftentimes have been done in cases where the "Storm Fiend" prolonged his devastating visit, but no more appalling tragedy has ever met the eye in so short a time. Bricks and planks and trees whirling around as so many snow-flakes in an Alpine storm, lent a terror to the gloomy scene, which, aided by the frightful glare of the forked lightning, streaking the stormy firmament, caused both saint and sinner alike to tremble. The largest trees were torn from the earth and bent as so many twigs. Like so many aspens they shivered and swayed hither and thither in the merciless blast, and what was most strange, the "younger in years" withstood the fury of the tempest more stoutly than the older, as if they were unworthy the notice of the destroyer.

Nor were the waters of the mighty Mississippi idle. They danced in wild glee and beat their shores with all the anger of the "tempest tossed ocean," engulfing in their mad career many boats of minor size which had been lying at the landing.

Almost every house presented within its walls a look of desolation which can neither be imagined nor described. Every bedroom and every parlor had its deluge; every person you met had some tale of woe and suffering to relate.

Night came, however, with its gloom upon the already too gloomy scene, and the greater absorbed the lesser darkness, until a truce became evident for the night. And when people could venture forth and look around them, as well as the shades of night would permit, a sad spectacle was indeed visible. On every corner could be seen one or more trees, forming a sort of a barricade to the passer-by. Bricks, either in heaps or scattered in wild confusion, were encountered on the sidewalks as well as in the middle of the streets; and the extensive rents in the roofs and gables, through which the sky was visible, told how well the work of havoc went on.

It is hard to dwell on this subject, for we, like others, have our own losses to feel, and writing about such is no "balm to the troubled soul." But we would fain lift our voice, in conjunction with the great mass of our fellow citizens, and hope that we may never see "it's like again."

Both the morning and midday and evening of yesterday were exceedingly hot.—The sun's rays were intense, and everybody wore his lightest garb until about the hour of 4 P. M., when a sudden gloom spread itself over the sky, and it became evident that the rain was coming. We had long been wishing for rain, but previous to its fall a smart breeze sprung up from the South. It almost instantly changed its direction, and veering round to the north-west, gave ample symptoms that it would very soon grow into a desperate gale. Onward it came, "a mighty and a strong wind," and about six it had reached the climax of its fierceness.—About half past six the rain commenced to fall freely, which had a tendency to allay the fury of the elements, and about bedtime there was hardly a breath of air stirring. The following catalogue of disasters will speak for itself. But, sad as has been our experience here, we dread that a few days will bring us a wilder wail from the water, where we very much fear the suffering must have been lamentable. We give the more serious losses, together with the names of the sufferers below:

S. L. James & Co., lessees of the penitentiary—North and South walls blown away, together with the roof of the shoe factory and cells in the south wing of the building. Estimated loss $100,000.

United States Arsenal—Storehouse No. 1, two hundred and fifty feet long by six feet wide; whole of second story and roof blown away; also three hundred feet of the laboratory frame building and roof of one of the powder magazines. Roughly estimated, $100,000.

W. D. Peters, coal merchant—Six boats laden with coal and several flats, number unknown. Estimated loss between $50,000 and $100,000.

J. Sharp McDonald & Co., coal merchants. Estimated loss $10,000.

S. L. James & Co., brickyard—Damage to machinery and buildings. Eestimated loss between $5000 and $6000..

Catholic church—roof blown away and half the arch on the inside expected to fall. Estimated loss $2000.

Charles Weick—Three buildings unroofed and otherwise damaged. Estimated loss $15,000.

Abbott and Coady, merchants—store unroofed and goods more or less damaged.

Among those who suffered in a minor degree, having the roofs and gable ends of their houses blown away, are the following: Henry Jones, A. S. Bogel, Arbour & Brother, Judge D. D. Avery, W. F. Tunnard, Judge Favrot, Timothy Duggan, Mrs. Waldkirch, R. H. Burk, C. K. David, A. Montan, Sr., Mrs. Greenwall, S. M. Hart. The losses of the above persons vary from $200 to $800.

A two-story frame house, lately occupied as a barber shop, on Florida street; a frame building occupied by Mr. Bogan on the edge of the town; a blacksmith shop on Government street, and a small frame building out on Africa street, were anihilated and everything within their walls destroyed. The frame residence of Colonel Carruth, in the western suburbs of the town, was unroofed and the interior of the building considerably damaged.

We regret very much that the Catholic church has suffered so severely by the storm, and we are pleased to be able to inform our readers that arrangements are about to be entered on for its repair. It will have a new roof put on and be replastered on the inside, and it is the intion to so complete it that it will be as near weatherproof in the future as the works of man can be made. The congregation will therefore soon be seated in a comfortable and more substantial place of worship. The fence around the cemetery which was swept away will soon be repaired.

While the storm was raging last evening, and the walls of the penitentiary and the roofs of the cells had been blown away, an attempt was made by some of the convicts to escape, but only one or two succeeded in getting out of the prison; they were speedily retaken.

We learn that the steamers Pike and Leonidas were badly injured by the storm, and it is thought that many other boats have shared the same fate. We fear that when the whole truth is known it will be a hard story to tell. However, as the wind is still, and the waters perfectly at rest, a few days will develop all, and enable us to give the facts to the public.

The sugarhouse on the plantation of Mr. Joseph Bernard was leveled to the ground, together with a number of cabins blown away in the quarters.

The sugarhouse, ginhouse and cabins on the plantation of Hon. James McCullen were all destroyed.

On the plantation of Mr. W. S. Pike, a portion of the sugarhouse was blown down and all the cabins.

Among those who suffered bodily injuries during the progress of the storm were: One colored man on the Bernard place killed and several wounded.

Two colored men killed on the Pike place and several wounded.

On the McCullen place, several colored persons were wounded.

In the city two colored men were wounded.

We have been unable to learn the names of the parties killed and wounded, and can only say that many have been seriously injured, while the wounds of others are of a comparatively trivial character.

STEEL.

Prussia vs. Pittsburgh.

In a recent number of the American Railway Times there was an article in which several Pittsburgh steel works were described, and to which a man calling himself the agent of Mr. Krupp objects in the following communication to the Railway Times:

Editors Railway Times:—The article from the Chicago Railway Review, in your issue of April 29, entitled "Pittsburgh Steel Manufactures," says "Krupp has failed in undertaking the process (making crucible cast steel) and his establishment has ceased taking orders." We presume from what follows that the writer intended this remark to apply particularly to steel boiler plate, though he does not say so; but if he did, it only goes to show how much easier it is to make assertions than to prove them. If the writer was paid to write up the Pittsburgh manufactures, he only did his duty of course, in doing the best he could for them; but the attempt to belittle the Krupp Works is almost too absurd to require refutation.

The capacity of the Works is too well known to require any statement here; but with regard to the single article of steel boiler plate, we may state that Mr. Krupp has been making it of the very best quality of cruicible steel for the last fifteen years, and has never ceased taking orders for it. We do not know the capacity of the Pittsburgh shops, but Krupp's Works roll plates twenty feet long by six and a quarter feet wide.

When the Pittsburgh people can use at one time more than 1600 crucibles, and produce crucible cast steel ingots of over 50 tons weight, perfectly homogeneous, it will be time enough for them to assert that "Krupp had failed in undertaking the process."

Ravages of the Frost.

The Missouri Democrat says:

"The fatal frost of last Sunday morning appears to have been wide-spread in its desolation. Sufficient information is now at hand to warrant us in the assertion that the destruction occasioned by that untimely freeze will inflict a loss of nearly $1,000,000 on the fruit growers of the West. Upon the very day previous to this frost-fall, the State Agricultural Society of Missouri was in session here, and in discussing the probable grape crop along the line of the Iron Mountain road estimated that 25 to 30 tons per day would be a small figure to place the amount of grapes at, which would arrive in this city over that one line. That night frost fell, and now five tons per day from that region is considered a high expectation. No vineyard escaped except those upon the highlands. Some of the procrastinating grape growers in this vicinity who had not yet tied up their canes were punished by a loss of their entire crop, as the frost was most severe close to the ground, and trailing canes, even on highlands, were badly singed, while upon low lands nothing was left alive but the old wood. A few days ago it was thought probable that the crop of grapes would be so immense this season that not more than five cents per pound could be counted on. Now it is quite likely that 10 or 20 cents will be nearer the mark."

Insurance.

The N. Y. World says:

The farmers of the State are rejoicing at the result of Mr. William M. Clinton's suit against six fire companies for $23,000, which has been recently decided by the Court of Appeals in his favor. It was brought to recover the insurance on a cotton factory destroyed at New Berlin. The suit was first tried at Cooperstown, Otsego county, New York. It is a well-known fact that almost the only time when the farmers have any trouble with the insurance companies is when the farmers' houses or barns are burned down; the companies are very gracious in pressing policies on the insurer, but too frequently they endeavor to escape the payment of their full obligation. Those who have been through the mill complain that instead of receiving a check for the full amount of their insurance the farmer is offered half, or quarter, according as it is suspected he has means to sue the companies. In addition to forced compromises the companies have another weapon. They frequently find out that "the policy is all wrong," and often the policy is so skillfully drawn that the company can crawl out of a small hole. Is it any wonder that the farmers are losing confidence in many fire companies, and the insurance is becoming a by-word, and insurance companies a reproach.

Eccentricities of a Tennessee Pig.

[From the Nashville Banner.]

Two sons of H. G. Scovel, Esq., of this city, riding leisurely along the Gallatin turnpike, four miles from the city, the other evening, passed a small pig walking in the same direction. One of the lads touched the pig gently on the back with the whip-lash, and the animal acknowledged the salute with a grunt, and quietly took his position in the rear of the buggy and followed it. He would not be driven back, but stubbornly persisted in following the buggy—walking when the horse walked, and running when the horse's speed increased. The lads turned in at Mr. G. W. Payne's gate and closed it, shutting the pig out; but the pig was not to be shut out. He nosed about until he found an opening in the fence, and came through and took his position under the buggy, and slept under it all that night. The next morning the young gentlemen hitched up and proceeded to town, the pig following as before. He followed them the entire four miles—crossed the suspension bridge after the buggy—followed it through the city to the residence of Mr. Scovel; and is now in his lot, perfectly gentle, and apparently contented with the situation. This is the most eccentric conduct of a country pig of intelligence we have yet heard of, and the account is literally true.

THE New York Tribune prints a letter from one Samuel Langhorne, in which he offers to "bring forward a man who, in the interests of learning and science, will take Ruloff's crime upon himself, and submit to be hanged in Ruloff's place." This offer is preceded by an elaborate disquisition upon the value of Ruloff's philological theory, and the expression of deep regret that the world will lose the benefit of his alleged discovery through his execution.

TO RUPTURED PERSONS.

We have often said, and now repeat, that persons who have any rupture or condition requiring mechanical support, that there is no better place that can be found than that of Dr. Keyser, of 167 Liberty street. We have not only known rupture relieved, but we have seen crooked spine and varicose veins treated with the most perfect success at the same place, and we would advise our readers to cut this out and go no where else when they need such services, and we do so with the full assurance that they will get full satisfaction. The Doctor has had an experience of over thirty-five years in the treatment of rupture, and it would be more than singular if in that time he had not acquired an entire mastery over that terrible and now common malady. The Doctor is now called in all difficult cases of rupture. Remember his office, 167 Liberty street.

QUIT DRUGGING.

This is now admitted by the medical profession as a fundamental principle of healing science. It is wisely provided by the human economy that whenever anything is wrong in the physical system the natural forces of the body are brought to bear to expel the disease. The great aim, therefore, is to strengthen the natural powers. This has been kept in view by the skilful compounders of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which operates to give fresh vitality to all the organs of the body. The effect of this medicine upon the stomach, the liver and the kidneys, is prompt and decisive. The patient, who is wise enough to quit drugging and try the Bitters, soon feels as if he had taken a new lease of life, and as he continues the use of the article, he is overjoyed to find the streams of health coursing through his frame. It is prepared with great care, and its component parts are entirely vegetable. It is free from the objections so often urged against preparations of the kind. As a medicinal agent it has no equal, while its pleasing flavor and healthful effects have made it a general favorite. It is free from all properties calculated to impair the system, and its operations are at once mild, soothing and efficient. All who have used Hostetter's Stomach Bitters attest its virtues and commend it.

Even those who are in the enjoyment of perfect health frequently have need to have recourse to tonics as preventives of disease. We are never too well armed against the assaults of "the ills which flesh is heir to." In health or sickness this tonic cannot be taken regularly without giving vitality and elasticity to the system.

Gold dull and firm, all business at 111. Loans were made at 1@2 per cent. Clearances $19,000,000. Exports to-day $527,000. Foreign exchange market very strong, and to-day prime bankers advanced their rates to 110¾ for sixty days. Sterling 110¾ for sight. Governments steady and unchanged. Stocks firm, but intensely dull this morning. The principal dealings were in Erie, New York Central, Reading, Rock Island, Ohios and Pacific Mail. At the close the market was firmer. Rock Island and Reading reaching the highest point of the season. Western Union steady and strong. Express shares dull. Central Pacific bonds were very actively sought after by German bankers for shipment to Europe. Money steady at 4@5 per cent. State bonds dull and nominal, except Tennessees, which are active and higher.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, May 9, 1871.

ASHES—Common Soda Ash, scarce and higher with sales at 4¾@4½; refined do, 4¾@4¾; Pearls, 9@9½; Pots 7¾@7½.

APPLES—The receipts continue very meagre and the market is almost bare; prime to choice of which the supply is very light, may be quoted at $5,50@6,50 per bbl.

BUTTER—With continued liberal receipts and no improvement in the demand, the market continues dull and neglected, though prices are without quotable change, 15@20 cts, for good to prime. Retailers are now being supplied almost entirely by pedlers, and this being the case the stocks in the hands of commission men are accumulating, as the demand is entirely local—there is no inquiry from the east.

BROOM CORN—Dull; sales at 4@5 for red and 5@6 for green. All hurl held at 7 cts.

BEANS—Dull; $1,50@2,00 per bushel.

BESWAX—Quoted at 28@30 cts.

COTTON—Sales at 12¾c per lb to upholsters and 14@14¾ for spinning.

CHEESE—Sales of new Ohio Cheese at 16 for Goshen; 15 for Factory and 13@14 for W. R. Prime old York State Goshen held at 18.

CARBON OIL—Is firmer and tending upward, though as yet there is no quotable advance; we continue to quote at 21@21¾c, in a jobbing way—usual advance for small lots.

CORNMEAL—Demand very light and prices unchanged; small sales at 90 cts per bushel.

CANDLES—Quoted at 12 cts for mould, and 19 for star.

CANNED GOODS—Demand steady and prices well maintained. Tomatoes, $2,65@2,70; peaches, $3,50 per dozen in 3-lb cans and $2,50 for 2-lb. Winslow's Corn, $2,75@3.

CEMENT—Louisville, $2,50@2,75 per bbl; Johnstown, $2,25; Rosendale, $4,00@4,50; Calcined Plaster, $4,50; Land Plaster, $3,50@3,75.

COUNTRY BACON—At no time for several years has there been such an accumulation of country meat in this market—almost every commission house is full and there is very little demand for it. Dealers are all anxious to realize, but there are very few buyers, and to effect sales at all very low prices have to be accepted, 6@6¾ for shoulders; 7¾@8¾ for ribbed and clear sides, and 11@12 cts for hams. Country lard is also in good supply and very dull and cannot be quoted above 9¾@10¾ cts.

DRIED FRUIT—Is quiet and unchanged. Apples may be quoted at 4@7 cts, as to quality; Peaches at 10@10¾ for quarters; 11@12c for mixed, and 13@14 for halves.

EGGS—The market continues slow, and prices remain unchanged, 14@15—most of the sales at 14c. It is expected, however, that the arrivals during the balance of the week will be comparatively light, and that prices will be sustained—perhaps advance.

FEATHERS—Scarce and in demand, with sales of No. 1 live geese feathers at 74@75—usual advance in a small way.

FLOUR—Is looking a little flat all over the west, and at some places it is lower, though, as a general thing, there has been but little change in prices as yet—it is generally expected that there will be a decline within the next sixty days. We continue to quote at $6,75@7,00 for fair to good spring extras; $7,25 for choice Minnesota baker's flour; $6,75@7,00 for good red winter wheat; and $7,25@7,50 for white. Rye Flour, for small lots in store, $6,25.

GRAIN—There is a continued active milling demand for Wheat and all that offers is taken readily at quotations, $1,40@1,45 for fair to prime red and $1,50@1,55 for white. The receipts continue comparatively light and the supply at present is scarcely equal to the demand, and this being the case, sellers have no difficulty in finding buyers, and that, too, at full prices. Oats, firmer and more active; sales 190 sks on wharf at 60; 170 do at 59; two cars, to arrive, at 58¾, buyer to furnish sacks—sales in store at 62. Shelled Corn is reported dull, but prices remain unchanged, 68 for mixed ear and 70 for mixed shelled and 72 for prime yellow shelled. PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, May 9, 1871.

The oil market continues considerably excited, and it now appears that there has been considerable refined sold within the past few days, mostly for May and June, to which no publicity has been given. These purchases, made mainly by a couple of New York houses, aggregate some 40,000 to 50,000 bbls, and it was this that brought about the excitement which has prevailed for some days past, and consequent advance in prices. To-day, however, the advices from the east indicated an easier market and we understand that both of the houses referred to above, prices having touched a point above their views, commenced to sell, and at last accounts, they had oil on the market to sell at quotations. They were prepared to buy at an advance, but the advance has been greater than they expected and in order to cool down the market they took the step to which we have just made reference. Exporters are willing to pay about 23¾@23¾ for May, 24¾@24¾ for June, but above this they do not consider it safe to go in the present condition of affairs, and this being the case, it is not probable that for the present at least, there will be any further advance. The crude market is very stiff, particularly in the oil regions, but there are but few buyers at the prices; as a rule when refined advances a ¾ of a cent, the producers immediately put crude up a ¾ and this is what is doing the mischief.

CRUDE.

Continues firm but very dull, not a single sale reported. Spot or seller May quoted at 11@11¾ bid and asked; seller all year 11; buyer all year 12¾. Quoted at $4,35@4,40 at Parker and $4,35 on lower creek.

REFINED.

As already intimated, there has been considerable oil sold for May and June within the past few days, at a fraction under to-days quotations. May, this afternoon could be either bought or sold at 24; June quoted at 24¾@24¾ and July at 25. Sale 1,000 bbls spot at 24; 1,000 June at 24¾; and 1,000 July at 25.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede rapidly at this point with 10 feet 2 inches in the channel last evening. Weather cloudy and raw with indications of rain.

The Glencoe arrived at New Orleans on Monday.

The Bellevernon, from St. Louis, with a cargo of iron ore, is among the first boats due. She passed Cincinnati on Sunday.

The Collier is again unfortunate, having lost three more boats of coal, belonging to Miller & Linn. One of these boats was discovered to be leaking, and an attempt was made to save it, but it sunk on Point Bar. In attempting to get away from the sunken boat two other boats of her tow, swung around in the current and were run down and sunk.

The Arlington, Capt. Dan Moore, is the Cincinnati packet to-day, leaving promptly at 12 o'clock. As is well known, she is an excellent boat in all respects, combines everything requisite to comfort and safety, and consequently offers superior accommodations to passengers. She will receipt passengers and freight through to all points south and west of Cincinnati, both by river and rail.

The Julia No. 2 departed for Janesville last evening with an average trip.

The Kate Putnam, Capt. Ed Evans is filling steadily for Nashville, as is also the Wauanita for St. Louis.

Milt. C. McLaughlin, one of the Julia's pilots, was detained at home this trip, in consequence of sickness in his family.

Capt. Hare announces the Comet barges for St. Louis forthwith. She will receipt freight through to Memphis and New Orleans.

—Sale of the steamboat Great Republic.—It has been known for some time that the steamer Great Republic was burdened with financial difficulties. The crisis came at last and the "finest steamer afloat" was taken in charge by United States Marshal Nemcomb. Various claims were filed against the boat in the United States district court, amounting in all to the sum of $59,965 79. She has been advertised for sale some time, and Saturday, May 6, was the day set apart for the sale. Yesterday morning, in pursuance of the order of the court, Marshal Newcomb repaired to the Des Peres river where the Republic was lying, and proceeded to carry out the behests of the court by selling the boat to the highest bidder. There was a large number of river men and others interested in steamboat stock in attendance. The marshal began the sale by bidding $16,000. Capt. John S. McCune then bid $30,000. Mr. Hostetter, of Pittsburgh, went $1,000 more. To this bid Mr. Thorwegan added $1,000, making $32,000. The company at this point became interested, and bidding though cautious became animated. McCune went another thousand dollars. From this time on the bidding slackened up a little, but the bidders went a thousand dollars on the bid. Thus far Messrs. Hostetter, McCune, and Thorwegan were the bidders. At his bid of $42,000 Capt. McCune reposed, and the bidding was between Hostetter and Thorwegan. When the marshal was calling the bid at $46,000, an old gentleman, whose name was not ascertained, bid an additional $500. Hostetter bid $47,000, and declined a larger offer. Thorwegan then bid $48,000, and the steamer Great Republic was declared to be his property.—St. Louis Republican.

—The Shreveport Gazette and True Flag of April 30, has the following: There was some little feeling enlisted on yesterday at the race which it was promised would take place between the steamers John T. Moore and Red Cloud, both of which were to leave New Orleans yesterday evening for this place. We heard some parties offering to back the Moore with one hundred dollars to ten, others were as confident that the Cloud would come in ahead, and were willing to back their judgment with the money, etc.

—A late St. Louis paper says: The shipments of iron ore for the last two weeks have been very light, about 5,000 tons, mostly for Kenton furnace, Cincinnati; also about 800 tons charcoal pig iron for Pittsburgh. The prospects for the coming week are much more favorable, but still there is a lack of tonnage. Large amounts of ore are awaiting shipment to the Ohio river.

—A Shreveport paper says: We are informed from good authority that the steamer John T. Moore gave the new steamer Lady Lee one hour and twenty minutes start the other day from Shreveport, and then caught and passed her within four hours afterward.

—The Carter line of St. Louis and Red river steamers are charging thirty-five dollars for cabin passage from Shreveport to St. Louis.

GRATES. GRATES.
Keep Your Houses Clean, AND SAVE FUEL. BY USING THE Wellman Patent Reflector STOVE AND GRATE. Which Stand Without a Rival.

The WELLMAN STOVE is furnished with the "REFLECTOR GRATE," and possesses all the advantages of an open fire place; it is specially adapted to houses where the flues are too small to admit a grate, and affords all the comforts of a CHEERFUL OPEN FIRE.

1st. As a radiator of heat it has double the intensity of any other grate.

2d. It is unquestionably the most cleanly—no soot or ashes escaping into the room—which, in the ordinary Grate, proves so detrimental to carpets and furniture.

3d. The combustion is perfect. There is no waste in unburnt cinders—every ounce of the fuel is so completely consumed, that nothing remains but the finest ashes.

4th. As an economizer of fuel—there being an actual saving of at least 25 per cent.

5th. It is highly ornamental.

6th. It is set so deep in the chimney, that it is much safer, and also less liable to puff in windy weather.

7th. A slight motion of the shaker cleanses the entire fire, and causes it to burn with great brilliancy and intensity of heat.

Samples may be seen and references had at the store of W. BARNES, corner of 3d avenue and Market street, Pittsburgh; W. F. GOODWIN, 66 Federal street, Allegheny, or at the FOUNDRY, corner Duquesne Way and Water street, Pittsburgh.

Parties who are building, or who contemplate changing Grates, are respectfully requested to examine "The Wellman." Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

Notice.—A lecture on the Structure and Workings of Christian Social Life in Boston will (D. V.) be delivered by the Rev. Alex. Blaikie, D. D., of that city, in the lecture room of the Second U. P. Church (the Rev. Mr. Hanna's), on Sixth street, on Thursday, May 11th, at 7:45 P. M. Admission free.

Special Election.—Yesterday a special election was held in the Seventeenth ward, pursuant to the Mayor's proclamation, to fill the vacancy occasioned in Select Council by the death of Mr. Z. Wainwright. There was but little excitement over it, and the election resulted in favor of Mr. John W. Riddell, who received almost an unanimous vote—but one vote being cast in opposition. Mr. Riddell will take his seat at the next meeting of Councils.

Once More.—We call attention to the great depot of grain, flour and feed stuffs, at No. 347 Liberty street, Laing & McKallip, proprietors. This firm has extensive arrangements with various points in the country from which their stock is replenished by daily arrivals. Their facilities in this way and the close attention given to keeping the supply and quantity up, and the prices down has enabled them to build up an extensive trade which from their prompt and correct manner of conducting their business is likely to increase more and more. So may it be, they deserve it.

Another Counterfeiter.

This morning about one o'clock Detective De Lacy, of the Secret Service, arrived in the city from Scranton, Pa., having under his care a young man named Van Roon, who is charged with dealing in counterfeit money. An indictment was found against the accused some time ago, but he managed to keep out of the way until within the last few days, when he was arrested. He is quite respectably connected. He will probably be released on bail, his father being in the city and having the necessary security. Van Roon is quite a young offender, and if he gets clear this time will probably quit the business.

Fell into a Trap.

Yesterday afternoon some excitement was created in the neighborhood of the St. Lawrence Hotel on Penn street, by an accident which befel a horse. It seems workmen were engaged in the rear of the house, on the alley, laying a sewer pipe. The horse was taken out of the stable by the driver who through some blundering managed to have it walk into the sewer hole. The body of the animal fit the trench like a wedge. The horse was not rescued from its position until six o'clock, and then had to be dug out. It was considerably bruised, but otherwise none the worse for the accident. It was owned by Mr. James McCord and valued at $100.

Fifth Avenue Bank.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Fifth Avenue Bank, held at their Banking House yesterday, the following gentlemen were elected to serve as directors during the ensuing year: William C. Robertson, Daniel Kinzer, Louis Kim, Emil Poerstel, W. P. Weyman, J. W. Craig and J. A. Kaercher. The Fifth Avenue Bank is one of our youngest, but most successful monied institutions, and is under excellent management. The Board of Directors are gentlemen of substance and integrity, and will no doubt command the confidence and patronage of the public. We can very heartily commend the institution as a safe and reliable one.

Hard to Beat.

Wm. J. Coleman of Indiana county, Pa., sold to Milton McJunkin sixty-six head of grade Cotswold Sheep, for the sum of eight hundred and sixty-five dollars; gross weight of sheep 10,815 lbs; average weight 163¾ lbs; first twenty averaged 200 lbs; heaviest sheep 220 lbs. These sheep were four years old, bred by Wm. J. Coleman; they averaged six lbs washed wool. First three years McJunkin sheared six hundred and sixty lbs unwashed wool from them averaging ten lbs each; heaviest fleece twelve and three-quarter lbs. The sheep after being sheared and shipped to Philadelphia in six days averaged 150½ lbs.

If that can be excelled we would like to hear from the parties.

American Bank.

The stockholders of the American Bank held their annual meeting yesterday at their Banking House, No. 80 Fourth avenue. The meeting having been organized by the appointment of a chairman, the annual statement was read by Mr. Graham Scott, and gave a very satisfactory exhibit of the condition of the Bank. On motion it was unanimously approved.

William T. Shannon, Esq., moved that the thanks of the stockholders be given to John Floyd, Esq., the worthy President, and William Floyd, Esq., the efficient Cashier, for the successful and satisfactory manner in which they had managed the American Bank during the past year. The motion was unanimously adopted.

The following gentlemen were elected to serve as directors during the ensuing year: John Floyd, William T. Shannon, Charles B. Leech, James W. Arrott, John M. Murtland, Archibald Wallace, James D. Kelley, Thos. M. Marshall and William Floyd.

Messrs. L. Dillon and Graham Scott were elected a Board of Auditors for the year.

The American Bank has only been in operation for about two years, but in that time has done an amount of business equal to that of some of our oldest institutions. The stockholders and the public have unbounded confidence in the integrity and ability of our worthy friend, John Floyd, Esq., whose presidency has been attended with such unparalleled success.

ANOTHER WARNING.

That Man-Trap Again—Another Victim.

Will that man-trap along the West Penn Railroad ever be closed up? We have this morning to record another accident, which, though fortunately not fatal in its results, exhibits the danger of the place. A countryman from Indiana named Dunlap came into the city on Monday evening, and was walking along the track east of Anderson street, not knowing his danger, when he suddenly went through to the ground below, a distance of about fifteen feet. He was found soon after by one of the night police who, calling assistance, had him removed to the office of Dr. Shillito on Anderson street. The man was pretty badly bruised and cut in the back of the head, while blood was oozing from his ears. Under medical treatment he recovered consciousness and gave his name. He was subsequently sufficiently recovered to be removed to his stopping-place, Fisher's, in the Allegheny Diamond, and yesterday evening started for home.

When will the man-trap be closed?

MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

Struck with an Iron Bar—Skull Fractured.

Yesterday morning a dispute, which ended rather seriously, occurred between two employees in the Allegheny Gas works. The parties were John Gardner and George Dunlevy. It seems they had a few words in regard to a piece of work, when Gardner who was the foreman, ordered Dunlevy to do it, and turned away. As he turned round Dunlevy, who was greatly excited picked up a bar of iron and struck him in the head, knocking him senseless. The assailant immediately fled; the victim was picked up and carried to the office of Dr. P. W. Heron when it was found that his skull had been fractured. He received every possible attention and was then removed to his home on Saggart street, where he lay last night in a very precarious condition.

Subsequently an information was made before Mayor Callow against Dunlevy for felonious assault and battery and a warrant issued.

The physician fears that congestion will set in, in which case fatal results would follow.

PATERNAL AFFECTION.

Extraordinary Conduct of a Father—A Little Child Penned Up Like an Animal—How He was Rescued—A Strange Story of Inhumanity.

Yesterday morning a strange case of parental cruelty—almost too incredible to be believed—was developed at the Mayor's Office. The matter was first brought to the attention of Mayor Brush by a couple of gentlemen who called the evening previous and stated that they had reason to believe a little child was in its father's home on Grant street, and that it was suffering in health as well as mind by the treatment to which it was subjected.

His Honor determined to have the matter investigated, and for this purpose yesterday morning sent Clerk Patterson and Officer Dressler to the house mentioned—a small two story frame structure nearly opposite the old Third ward school-house. It was occupied in part by George Korshen, who kept a small candy store in the front part.

The visitors entered the store and made known their business. Korshen acknowledged that he had a son

"FIVE OR SIX YEARS OLD,"

but refused to allow them to see him until they informed him by what authority they came. He reluctantly consented, and took them through a bed-room in the rear of the store to a shed, in which was a stove. Here they discovered a boy five or six years of age, very meanly clothed and dirty, seated in a high chair. The boy seemed astonished at the presence of the gentlemen. In answer to questions propounded by Mr. Patterson he said that he had not been out of the room for a year or two; that he sat in the chair mostly from morning till night, and that he was often whipped. He said further that he slept at night in the lumber room.

Korshen, the father of the boy, was then questioned, and admitted that the child had not been out of the room

FOR NEARLY TWO YEARS.

The first reason he gave for thus keeping the child from getting out was "on account of the family upstairs," and he afterwards told Patterson it was "because of the boy's step-mother." Mr. Patterson says that the boy has been so reduced by the confinement, the want of exercise, and the filth which he lives in, that he does not look to be over four years of age, although he is nearly six, while his actions and manner of staring would indicate that he was bordering on lunacy, which, it is supposed, was superinduced by keeping him penned up in the little shed in his chair, without ever getting to the outer world or getting any pure air.

The visitors at once took charge of the little victim and brought him before the Mayor, where he was kept until the afternoon, when Clerk Patterson took him out, had him cleaned and provided with a new suit of clothing, and then until the case can be further disposed of. While walking along the street the little fellow was enthusiastic in his expressions of delight at everything he saw, and seemed to rejoice in his freedom with all the earnestness of his nature.

THE FATHER

appeared at the Mayor's office after his son had been taken there and endeavored to get him back, being profuse in his promises of what should be the future treatment of the child; but the authorities refused his plea, and if he regains possession of his son, he will probably have learned to treat him as a child and not worse than a brute. The Mayor read him a severe homily upon his inhuman course, but further than that so far he has escaped all punishment. The case will probably be disposed of definitely to-day.

CENTRAL BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Regular Reports—Examining Committee—Expense of Schools—Tax Levies—Finance Report—Professor of Commercial Science—Election Postponed—Adoption of Text Books—German in the Schools.

A regular monthly meeting of the Central Board of Education was held at their rooms, Third ward school house, yesterday afternoon.

In the absence of Mr. Wilson, Chairman, Mr. Sterrett, was, on motion of Mr. Lewis, called to the chair.

Members present—Messrs. Aiken, Chadwick, Craig, Fleming, Getty, Hamilton, Hartman, Harrison, Lewis, McEwen, Neckermann, Nobbs, Praetsch, Rankin, Shaw, Simz, Sterrett, Strain and Taylor.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Sergeant, Secretary, then read the following monthly reports:

REPORT OF CITY SUPERINTENDENT.

Mr. George J. Luckey, City Superintendent reported as follows:

Gentlemen, The following report on the condition of the public schools for the month of April, is respectfully submitted:

Enrollment—Males, 4,620; females, 4,566; total, 9,186. Increase on the enrollment for April 1870, 608.

Average Attendance.—Males, 3815; females, 3806; total, 7621. Increase on the average attendance for April, 1870, 292.

There is a decrease in the enrollement and average attendance as compared with last month caused by the numerous removals of families from one School district to another, thereby requiring the services of many of the larger pupils in household labor. The partial destruction of the Moorhead School building has also been the cause of quite a large decrease in the attendance at that school.

Recommendation.—I desire to call the attention of the Board to the advisability of appointing a standing committee of your Board, to whom shall be referred the result of each and every examination, and whose duty it shall be to advise with the examining officer on all questions of a practical nature connected with or in any way relating to the granting or revoking of teachers' certificates.

My reasons for asking the appointment of this committee are as follows:

First—It has worked well in other cities, and is the plan now generally in use.

Second—It is more likely to give satisfaction to the applicant, by relieving him of any impression which he might otherwise form of unfairness or injustice in the decision affecting his case.

COMMITTEE.

In compliance with the recommendation the following committee was appointed: Messrs. Sterrett, Shaw, McEwen, Craig and President Wilson.

Report received and recommendation adopted.

PRINCIPAL OF HIGH SCHOOL.

Mr. Philotus Dean, Principal of High School, presented the following report for the month of April 1871:

Attendance.—Academical Department: males 84; females 103: total 187. Normal Department: males 1: females 52; total 53. Commercial Department: males 51; females 2; total 53.

The teachers were all regular in their attendance.

It is desirable that the date of the examination of candidates for admission to the High School should be appointed at this time, and I would suggest Monday, the 26th and Tuesday, the 27th of June, as best suiting the convenience of the Faculty.

Report received and resolution unanimously adopted.

PROFESSOR OF COMMERCIAL SCIENCE.

Mr. Craig moved that the Board go into an election of Professor of Commercial Science at the High School.

Mr. Hamilton moved that the motion be laid on the table.

The yeas and nays were called with the following result: Yeas, 8; nays, 11. The motion to lay on the table was therefore lost.

NOMINATIONS.

Nominations were then declared to be in order.

Mr. Strain nominated Prof. J. D. Dolan.
Mr. Hamilton nominated Mr. S. D. Everhard.
Mr. Nobbs nominated Mr. W. W. McCandless.
Mr. Taylor nominated Dr. Arthur Wylie.

Mr. Nobbs presented testimonials as to the fitness of Mr. McCandless.

Testimonials were also presented favorable to Messrs Dolan and Everhard.

On motion the Secretary was requested to read the recommendations.

Mr. Shaw moved that the report of the examining committee be read.

The report as heretofore published was then read.

Mr. Hamilton objected to the election being gone on with for the reason that the candidates had not received certificates from the City Superintendent.

Mr. Craig held that the objection was a mere quibble and that the City Superintendent, being present, could at once issue certificates.

Mr. Lewis renewed the motion to go into an election at this meeting.

Mr. Sterrett held that the certificates had been virtually if not formally granted.

Mr. Sims moved that the question be laid over till the next meeting.

Mr. Sterrett favored the motion of Mr. Sims for the reason that he did not but propose to vote for either of these gentlemen to-day.

Mr. Chadwick also favored a postponement till the next meeting.

Other members of the Board followed in the same strain. The yeas and nays were then ordered, with the following result; yeas 9 nays 10. The motion to postpone was therefore lost. The election was then declared to be before the house.

THE VOTE

was then taken as follows;

Dolan	10
McCandless	2
Wylie	0
Everhard	7

The chair was about to declare that Mr Dolan had been duly elected, when

Mr. Nobbs raised the question that it required a majority of the whole Board to elect, and offered a rule of the Board to that effect. A second ballot was then taken, Mr. Dolan receiving 11 votes, Mr. Everhard 6, and Mr. McCandless 2. It requiring twelve to elect, a third ballot was had with the same result as before on the second. On the fourth ballot Messrs. Dolan and Everhard each received 9 votes and Mr. McCandless 1.

Mr. Hamilton now moved that as there seemed to be no prospect of electing, that the question be postponed until the next meeting.

Mr. Lewis moved to amend by postponing indefinitely. Carried.

GERMAN IN THE SCHOOLS.

Mr. Nobbs, from the Committee on Teachers and Salaries, reported that a sufficient number of schools had applied for a German teacher, but in view of the fact that the school year was so near its close, the Committee recommended that the election of a German teacher be postponed till the commencement of the next school year. Report received and recommendation adopted.

TEXT BOOKS AND GRADES.

Mr. Aiken, from the Committee on Text Books and Grades, reported that the Committee recommended that the series used in the schools last year be continued, as follows: Osgood's primary cards, Osgood's progressive primer, Osgood's progressive speller, Osgood's progressive first reader, Osgood's progressive second reader, Wilson's third intermediate reader, Osgood's progressive fourth reader, Wilson's fourth reader, Osgood's progressive fifth reader, Dean's primary arithmetic, Dean's intellectual arithmetic, Dean's intermediate arithmetic, Robinson's new elementary algebra, Mitchell's new primary geography, Mitchell's new intermediate geography, Mitchell's new physical geography, Burtt's practical English grammar, Lossing's common school history of the United States, Webster's dictionaries, Bartholomew's drawing cards, Alden's citizens' manual.

Mr. Craig moved to strike out Mitchell's and insert Guyot's series of geographics, provided it can be done without additional cost to the people.

Mr. Craig, in support of the superiority of Guyot's series, stated that the maps of that series had been adopted by the Messrs. Mitchell in the latest edition of their Geography. He was in favor of changing, if Guyot's series could not be adopted, the Mitchell Geography now on hand for the latest edition of Mitchell's, with the proviso as above.

Mr. Nobbs moved to lay the motion on the table.

The yeas and nays were then called and resulted as follows: yeas 13, nays 6.

Mr. Craig's motion was therefore laid on the table.

The question then recurred on the adoption of the Committee's report, which was adopted.

A motion to reconsider was then made, and on motion, laid on the table.

Mr. Shaw moved that the series of books now in use at the High School be adopted for the next school year. Carried.

Mr. Hartman moved that Wilson's Third Reader be added to the list of text books for use in the sub-districts.

Mr. Shaw stated that he could not see the necessity for introducing an additional third reader, there already being one in use. He thought it was sufficient. For his part, he was in favor of striking off one of the fourth readers, there being two on the list, Osgood's and Wilson's.

Mr. Hamilton moved to lay the motion no the table. Carried.

COLORED SCHOOLS.

Mr. Hartman, from the Committee on Colored Schools, reported that the school was progressing favorably.

On motion adjourned.

THE ORPHANS' ANNIVERSARY.

Pittsburgh and Allegheny Orphan Asylum—The Thirty-fifth Anniversary—An Interesting Occasion—Songs and Literary Exercises by the Children—Annual Reports, Address and Election of Managers.

The cosy chapel of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Orphan Asylum on Ridge street, Allegheny, was yesterday afternoon filled with an interested company of ladies and gentlemen, who had assembled to participate in the exercises commemorative of the Thirty-fifth Anniversary of the Institution. Among those who had gathered, were many who have become known in the community for their philanthropic efforts, and whose support is always an indication of the merit of any enterprise, their presence on the occasion was an evidence of the hold obtained by this noble institution upon the attention and sympathies of the benevolent in our midst.

The Chapel had been tastefully decorated with evergreens and fresh flowers, which served the double purpose of beautifying and shedding an agreeable fragrance throughout the apartment. The little children occupied the usual places on the east side, and facing a temporary platform which had been erected for the officers and young performers. The remainder of the room and one communicating by folding doors, in the rear, was taken up by the audience, while others who had chanced to be a little tardy, could get no further than the doorways.

The exercises commenced at three o'clock with prayer by the venerable Rev. Dr. Luther Halsey, after which the children united in the "Greeting Song," Miss Nannie Campbell presiding with grace at the organ, Miss Essie McKinley leading with skill in the vocal exercises.

Rev. S. F. Scovel then took charge of the programme, and commenced by reading the REPORT OF THE SECRETARY.

Again the return of spring brings with it the duty of rendering to those interested in suffering humanity, a history of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Orphan Asylum during the past year.

There has been no very marked change in our large family; there have been the usual vicissitudes of sickness and health; children have left our shelter who have grown old enough to be placed in other homes, or whose friends have become able to support them; but most of their places have been filled by other claimants for our care.

There have been received into the Asylum during the year fifty-three children; forty-one have been placed in suitable homes or returned to their friends; thirty-one soldiers' orphans have been transferred to the schools established expressly for them by the State, and five have died, leaving one hundred and seventy now in the institution.

During the winter there were at one time thirty children sick, principally with scarlet fever and pneumonia; the scarlet fever patients all recovered; there were two deaths from pneumonia, and the other three who died were infants who were in a hopeless condition when brought in, and for whom all we could do was to make their remnant of life more comfortable. One little girl was severely burned, and for many weeks her life was despaired of, but by God's blessing the remedies used and the faithful nursing she received were crowned with success. Dr. O. L. Miller still exercises the same kind and skillful care and supervision as have been used for so many years for the benefit of our helpless little ones.

There are now in the Asylum seventy-one soldiers orphans, for whom boarding is paid by the State; their numbers are rapidly diminishing, owing to their being transferred to schools, as soon as they are twelve years old; and a few more years will remove this evidence of the sanguinary struggle in which our nation has so lately been engaged.

New teachers have been employed in both schools, Miss Wallace as Principal and Miss McKinley in the primary school, but we think they are no less efficiently conducted than formerly.

Miss Siervey, who has labored among the children so long as assistant matron and teacher, still continues in the same capacity.

The vacancy in the primary school was caused by the marriage of Cecilia Sharpe, who had first become an inmate of the Asylum when she was eight years old, and had been the very successful teacher of the little ones for five years. This was the first marriage which had ever been celebrated in the Asylum, and additional interest was given to it by the fact that her husband Stephen Williams, had spent many years of his boyhood in the same house. These young people entered upon their new life with the best wishes of those who had tried to supply the parents place to them.

It was with very great regret that the Board accepted the resignation of Mrs. A. B. Sterling, our matron, who for five years has filled with judicious and unwearied care the part of a mother to these children, never sparing herself in any way, but giving her time, energy and health itself to their service. She bears with her to her new home the sincere friendship of every member of the Board.

We would unite with the entire community in mourning the death of Mr. John T. Logan, who has long been a friend and a most reliable adviser to the Board in all matters requiring the assistance of a man of business. His personal interest in the institution was great, and he was one of the gentlemen whom we always expected to see at the annual meetings.

Some very important improvements have been made in the asylum premises during the year. A system of drainage has been carried out which was very much needed, and now the west and south sides of the lot are being graded, under the direction of Mr. W. Holmes, and when this is finished, a suitable fence will be put on Ridge avenue front and the grounds sodded and planted, which could not be done until the grade was settled. These necessary improvements have caused a large outlay of money, but as in former times, whenever a time of necessity came, gifts were poured into the treasury. We received during the year a donation of $1,600 from Mrs. Mowry and a legacy of stock and a farm in Mercer county from Mr. James McAuley.

Many of the letters received in answer to the annual inquiries were very interesting, and a great majority of them were satisfactory. We had very lately an evidence of the value of these inquiries, and of the Register of the children which is carefully kept. A gentleman wrote to ask some account of two boys who were placed in the asylum twenty-five years ago; we could give him their history until they were of age, and directions which would enable him to find their present condition.

We hear constantly of girls who have served out their time remaining in the families of their employers. One of them was brought to the Asylum with a trunk full of clothing, beside her fifty dollars, "in order," as they said, "that the ladies might be satisfied that the conditions of the Institute had been complied with."

One person writes of a young girl who was rescued from a miserable home where she was treated cruelly, and who has now completed her term of service; "she is not only obedient, but kind to every one with whom she has to do; if she is slow in doing her work, it is always done well; and as to Christianity, she will leave many of us in the back-ground." She herself writes: "As I look back on my childhood, and see how I have been taken care of, I feel that I cannot repay you all for your kind guardianship, and hope I may take an interest in the work which has devolved on you, and do all I can to see that other little ones are taken care of." Another one says; "Eddie is a good boy, obedient, careful and tries to do right; he will one day be a credit to the Asylum which he so gratefully remembers." Another says: "John's moral conduct is of the highest order." Six or eight young men who are still under age, but who, for various reasons, have been allowed to leave the places where they were indentured, are now in the city working at different trades; one of the managers has a special supervision over them, and we have every reason to hope that they are leading sober and industrious lives.

Thus we see the bread cast upon the waters returning to us after many days in the comfort of hearing of the happy, useful lives of our children.

By order of the Board.
LOUIS J. CAMPBELL, Secretary.
Allegheny, May 8th, 1871.

At the close of the children's exercises, the Rev. J. R. Mills, of the North avenue M. E. Church, Allegheny, delivered an appropriate and interesting address.

The election of a

INSPECTING THE BUILDING.

The visitors after the dismission of the children from the chapel were permitted to make a tour of the building and found everything in the most perfect order; we doubt if any public institution can exhibit a better condition of affairs for the comfort and convenience of its inmates than the Asylum, and certainly as it appeared yesterday, the cleanliness and order apparent everywhere were in the highest degree creditable to the efficiency of the matron and her assistants.

The new year commences under favorable auspices and with the record of the past to encourage, the Board of Managers to look forward from their Thirty-Fifth anniversary occasion to a future full of promise.

A FREE EXCURSION.

Too Free for Comfort—Rowdyism on the Train—A Sale of Lots, and What Became of It.

As our readers will perhaps remember, a grand sale of lots at Leetonia, Columbiana county, Ohio, was fixed for Monday, and McIlwaine engaged to wield the hammer on the occasion. A free excursion train was announced to convey the purchasers from this city.

The train, consisting of twelve passenger coaches, left the Union Depot at nine o'clock. The cars were filled to their utmost capacity, but at all the stations along the road large accessions were made until the crowd numbered one thousand. Many of the passengers were young men, who went out on a "lark," and they succeeded in getting one. When the grounds were reached a large number of persons residing in the vicinity had already assembled, so that Mr. McIlwaine had an audience of fully two thousand persons.

The young men who were out for sport did not relish the "sale" part of the excursion, and started for the town of Leetonia in search of sport. They indulged freely in liquor, and soon became so boisterous in their conduct that the police force was compelled to interfere to preserve order. Three of the most demonstrative were arrested and placed in the lock-up, a rickety log building "set up on stilts," as some "of the boys" expressed it. After the prisoners had been secured quite a crowd of excursionists collected about the building and demanded the release of their companions. The officers stood at the door of the building with drawn revolvers, and threatened death to any one who should attempt to force an entrance. The roughs did not scare, however, and after a brief consultation a battering ram was improvised. A few vigorous blows were sufficient to reduce the "fort," and the officers deserted their posts without firing. The prisoners were soon released, and the crowd continued their shameful conduct until they left the place for the cars.

The rioting at Leetonia, however, was not the only feature of the rowdyism. On the way out, a young man named Crumb was pushed from the train while it was in motion, and fell to the ground, cutting a deep gash in his thigh, breaking the thigh bone, and otherwise severely injuring himself. He was brought to his home in Allegheny, and is now under medical treatment. So far no informations have been made against the rioters.

The people of Leetonia will know how to receive the roughs if they come again.

Notwithstanding the riotous conduct on the part of the roughs, the sale was quite a success. Nearly one hundred lots were sold at prices ranging from two hundred to four hundred dollars, according to location. Over one hundred remain unsold. The rowdyism of the roughs should not be set down against the more peacable part of the company who attended for business, and held to that throughout.

BIRMINGHAM COUNCIL.

The New Market House—Plan Adopted—Bond of Market Master to be Canceled.

A special meeting of the Birmingham Council was held in the office of Burgess Salisbury to consider the question of building a new market house.

Members present—Messrs. Atterbury, Conway, Kew, Doyle, Duncan, Schneider, Schwarm, Zeifel, and Burgess Salisbury in the chair.

On motion of Mr. Doyle the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was adopted.

Mr. Doyle stated that he had been informed by Messrs. Barr & Moser, architects, that the probable cost of the new Market House would not exceed $50,000.

Mr. Atterbury stated that in his opinion there would be no trouble in negotiating fifteen years eight per cent. bonds, and he regarded the project of erecting a Market House as entirely feasible.

In reply to an inquiry from Mr. Kerr, be stated that fifteen years' bonds would be more easily negotiated than those maturing at a shorter date. He was satisfied that the first year's revenue would pay off the first five years' bonds.

Some further debate took place, when Mr. Kerr moved that a new market house be erected on the Market square.

Mr. Atterbury thought that the erection of a new market house was an imperative necessity, as the present one was inadequate to the wants of the citizens.

Mr. Kerr's motion was then put and carried unanimously.

Mr. Doyle moved that the plan submitted by Messrs. Barr & Moser be adopted. Carried.

Mr. Kerr moved that the borough solicitor be instructed to demand payment for arrears of rent from the Chambers Light Guards, and in case they should refuse to pay up, to proceed against them according to law. Carried.

Mr. Ziefel moved that the Market Master's bill be settled and his bond canceled. Carried.

Mr. Kerr moved that a building committee of five be appointed, of whom the Burgess shall be Chairman. Carried.

The Burgess stated that he would announce the committee in a few days.

Mr. Doyle moved that the Building Committee advertise for proposals to build the Market-house and present the proposals received at the next regular meeting. Carried.

Mr. Atterbury moved that the Street Regulator and Major Patterson, late Regulator, compare notes with regard to the proper elevation of curbstones, their determination to be final. Carried.

Mr. Doyle moved that the Burgess be instructed to advertise for proposals for the grading and paving of Breed street.

Mr. Ziefel, moved as an amendment that the whole matter be referred to the next regular meeting of Councils. Carried.

Mr Doyle, inquired as to the amount of rent paid by the Chambers Light Guards.

On motion adjourned.

Hydraulic Cement.

Some time ago we announced that Messrs. Laing & McKallip, 347 Liberty street, had been appointed agents for the sale in this city of the celebrated Louisville Hydraulic Cement, so much superior to any other in the market, and so valuable for numerous practical purposes connected with brick and stone masonry, for watertight cisterns, for concrete floors and especially for all foundations in wet places. We are glad to learn that the sales of Laing & McKallip during the present month exceed 1,500 barrels. This shows that the superior quality of this cement is appreciated by our builders and contractors. The firm also deals largely in White Lime and in Calcined and Sand Plaster.
